Combs Produce Celebrates 50 Years of Service on the Dallas Market

(Dallas, TX) --- After 50 years in business, family-owned Combs Produce is a thriving force in the southwestern United States. Combs continues to tap into new markets with a comprehensive service portfolio, expanded distribution, and superior product quality. Evolving from a small produce house on the Dallas market to a regional force in tomato repacking, Combs management has continually searched for ways to progressively evolve their services to meet the changing needs of their customers. Topping their list of value-added services is their focus on food safety practices and record-keeping that allow them full trace back capability in a matter of minutes.

Combs has celebrated their 50th anniversary this year with a number of exciting new marketing initiatives that highlight their comprehensive portfolio of products and services. Earlier in 2008, Combs launched a new corporate website that reflects their progressive approach to delivering fresh produce solutions. Exhibiting for their first time at the 2008 PMA Foodservice Expo and Conference, Combs unveiled their new tradeshow booth and marketing collateral, focusing their messaging on the ever critical issue of food safety.

“I have never been more proud of our company as I have been these past few months. We are able to celebrate the long-standing success of the company my grandfather founded 50 years ago thanks to the excellent team of professionals that work beside me every day”, said Brett Combs, President.
